

Stuck at home on a snow day

By Robin Friedman

Think of it as a paid personal day. As the white stuff piles up outside, here are "but-I-can-never-find-the-time" activities for inside.

Light your fire. Put your fireplace to good use, prepare a foamy hot concoction or cool glass of wine, and watch the snowflakes fly.

Outfitters, Inc. Never have time in the mornings to accessorize? Now's the perfect opportunity. Pluck clothes, shoes, and jewelry out of your closet and put on your own private fashion show.

Bubbles. Fill the tub, light a scented candle, and soak. You deserve it.

Pop goes the DVD. Catch up on your favorite TV show or movie. Better yet, watch it in bed under the covers.

Stroll down memory lane. Unearth old photo albums and indulge your remembrances.

Curl up with a good book. Make a dent in that book you keep meaning to finish.

Drawer warrior. Tackle that drawer or cabinet that's been bugging you for ages.
